PRIMARIES ARE TO BE HELD IN OGDEN OCTOBER 13

The primaries will be held in Ogden this year on Oct. 23, for the offices of mayor, city commissioner, municipal judge and city auditor. Ten days previous to that date, the names of all candidates for the different offices must have been filed with the city recorder. Unless there are more than two candidates for the offices named, there will be no primary election, as that is for the purpose of eliminating all but two candidates.

To date, Judge George S. Barker has no opposition in his race to succeed himself as municipal judge.

In the mayoralty race two candidates have made their appearance. Abbot R. Heywood, the present incumbent, made official announcement last Sunday. Two days later, T. Samuel Browning declared himself a candidate for the office.

Chris Flygare, commissioner of the streets and public improvements, has also announced that he will enter the primaries for re-election. In opposition, Job Pingree, of the Pingree National bank, has filed his petition with the city recorder.

MYSTERIOUS MESSAGE AS TO A DRAFT NUMBER

Who is the man in Sacramento, California, who wants to know his draft number? That is what City Recorder Walter Richey asked this morning, when he received a telegram from that city. The telegram asked if the unknown person had been drafted and what his serial number is. That was perfectly clear to Mr. Richey, and he was glad to furnish the required information. But the telegram was signed "Lelia Watson." Now Miss Watson happened to be the registrar in the seventh precinct on the day of the registration, and consequently had no interest in a registration number or as to whether she had been drafted.

Accordingly Mr. Richey sent a telegram to the California city, asking for more light. Why the message was signed with Miss Watson's name is an unsolved mystery.

FOUR MEN MORE THAN THE REQUIRED NUMBER FROM OGDEN FOUND ON TRAIN

A message was received by the local city exemption board from state officials to the effect that the Ogden contingent of 40 per cent, which left September 20 for American Lake, had a surplus of four men. The word was sent to the adjutant general by the commander of the camp and he traced the surplus down to Ogden. The news created some consternation at first as the city board officials sent but the required thirteen men from Ogden. After investigating the matter a little further, however, they found what they believe to be an explanation of the mistake. Two men were sent with the Ogden contingent who had registered in other cities but had been in Ogden when their time for enlistment came. They had secured permission to go with the Ogden boys it is said, to obviate the long trip back to their homes. One was from Nevada and the other from New Mexico. The other two were supplied for Summit county by the local board upon special request late Thursday afternoon. It is thought, however, that the men were meant for the state in general as it was reported two short, and a checking up at the depot accounted for all the men required from Summit county.

COUNTY OFFICIAL CLAIMS SCHOOLS WILL NOT RUN SHORT DURING THE YEAR

Both city and county school boards are confronted by what they consider a tight situation in regard to school supplies for the year because of the reduced apportionment of the county and city taxes. At the meeting of the county school board today and at the meeting of the city board last night the subject was discussed very earnestly and the board members were of the opinion that the schools would be placed in an embarrassed situation as a result.

Both boards have received notices from County Clerk Charles M. Ramey stating the amount of the apportionment from the county for the year's work. The city schools have been allotted approximately $145,000 and they asked for $170,000; the county schools have been allotted approximately $61,000 when they asked for $72,000.

Clerk Ramey explains the whole matter by stating that the county reduced the apportionments from the previous figures because the county commission was assured by the state that the increased valuation of $58,000,000 this year would make a sufficient fund for the schools to adequately cover the decrease. A conference was held at the time the matter was under discussion by Weber county officials, E. G. Gowans, state superintendent of public instruction; Daniel O. Larson, state treasurer, and Joseph Ririe, state auditor, and Mr. Ramey

WEST MUST WAKE UP, SAYS WHARTON CLAY WHO IS ON A VISIT TO THIS CITY

Wharton Clay, executive secretary of the Military Training Camp Association of America, attended a luncheon at noon today at the Weber club with local business men and members of the local committee of the association. Mr. Clay's visit to Ogden was for the purpose of stimulating interest and promoting individual participation in America's work of helping the allies win the great war. He says that the west is absolutely apathetic with regard to the war and must be awakened to a sense of the tremendous work confronting the nation. America will virtually win the war, he says, but all of the citizens must assume the responsibility and do their share.

In the east, Mr. Clay says, the cooperation of the people is very marked. Ammunition plants, food and clothing factories and every large industry is humming with war spirit. The people are alive to the fact that the nation is at war and are straining every effort to do their bit toward aiding the nation.

"We are prone to think the war is not serious and that Germany is nearly 'spent,'" he said. "This idea will be responsible for the continuation of the war, for just as quickly as the whole people awake to a full realization of the work they have to do and get in and do it, then will we whip Germany. We are too eager to leave the whipping of Germany to our army. That cannot be done. We must arouse every individual in the entire nation to the task confronting us for we at home will win the war just as much as the army which fights. We must instill an idea of this war into the people for they do not realize fully enough that we are at war. We must talk war and think war until we are so thoroughly at war with Germany, both with our army and with our citizenry, that we shall overwhelm the enemy. The whole nation must participate to win and we cannot sit down indifferently and let the other fellow do the work.

"It is up to the American people. France and England have about reached the limit of their capacity for extending themselves and still Germany is unbeaten. We, therefore, can easily see that to us remains the work of bringing the end, and the more quickly we realize it and get to work on the job of beating Germany with every force in the nation, the sooner will the central powers collapse."

Mr. Clay's headquarters are in Chicago. He is on his way across the continent and stopped at Ogden on short notice. There are over 2000 of the committees of the Military Training Camps Association of America throughout the country. The Ogden committee is composed of C. H. Barton, chairman; R. A. Moyes, J. F. Burton, A. P. Bigelow and S. G. Dye. Mr. Barton is absent from Ogden, so could not attend the meeting.

honor that has come to him.

His Grace, the Most Rev. Edward J. Hanna, D. D., archbishop of San Francisco and one of Monsignor Cushman's warmest admirers, has arranged to be in Ogden on that Sunday, and will preside at the services which are to be held in St. Joseph's church. His Lordship, the Right Reverend Bishop, will pontificate at the Mass to be celebrated on the occasion. Archbishop Hanna will preach the sermon.

Catholics of Ogden are planning to make the event a big public ceremony, since the Monsignor is beloved by thousands in Ogden who are not members of the church. An elaborate musical program will be prepared by the choir of St. Joseph's church, and it is probable that Prof. Phillip A. Bamsbach, choirmaster and organist of the Cathedral of the Madeleine, Salt Lake, will assist them for the occasion.

Plans are being made by a large number of Salt Lake friends of Monsignor Cushman to attend the investiture, and it is likely that arrangements will be made for a special train over the Bamberger on that morning.
